Prayer by the Senate Chaplain:

We thank you, Lord, for the refreshment of home, family and friends we have enjoyed these past few days. Help us to know the value of getting apart from our daily pressures and resting awhile that these bodies and minds of ours may not be abused but kept effective.

Bless the tasks of this week and make them productive and worthwhile for the people we represent. We shall need continued patience, our God, and some of us are short in this virtue. Minister to us in this our need.

Keep us circumspect in our involvements through government and in these days when there is so much public and private preoccupation with wrongness help us not to become so wallowed in the slough of despond that we fail to see greatness and goodness and light around us.

You have taught us that as men think in their hearts so do they become. Help us, therefore, our God, to recognize that pessimism, distrust, depression and negativism can breed horrors for our own lives and for our nation.

So we thank you today for the good, the beautiful, the generous, the industrious, and those with vision who transform problems into challenges. Amen.

The Senate pledged allegiance to the flag of the United States of America.

By Senator Glisson—

SB 209—A bill to be entitled An act relating to mobile homes; amending §320.8325(7), Florida Statutes, as created by chapter 73-182, Laws of Florida; limiting tie-down requirements to mobile homes which are installed or moved after July 1, 1973; repealing §320.8325(6), Florida Statutes, as created by chapter 73-182, Laws of Florida, which provides that mobile home owners have nine months in which to comply; providing an effective date.

Amendments attached

—and requests the concurrence of the Senate.

Allen Morris, Clerk

Amendment 1—On page 1, line 16, strike everything after the enacting clause: and insert the following:

Section 1. Subsections (1) and (2) of section 320.8325, Florida Statutes, 1973, are amended to read:

320.8325 Mobile home tie-down requirements; minimum installation standards; injunctions, penalty.—

(1) The owner of a mobile home shall secure the mobile home to the ground by the use of anchors and tie-downs so as to resist wind overturning and sliding, provided, however, that nothing herein shall be construed as requiring that anchors and tie-downs be installed to secure mobile homes which are permanently attached to a permanent structure. A permanent structure shall have a foundation and such other structural elements as are required pursuant to rules and regulations promulgated by the department which assure the rigidity and stability of the mobile home.

(b) In addition, each mobile home shall be tied down by one (1) of the following means:

2. A mobile home not having built in over-the-roof ties and tie down points meeting department standards shall be secured by means of external over-the-roof ties manufactured and installed in accordance with standards promulgated by the department.

(2) The department shall promulgate rules and regulations setting forth minimum standards for the manufacture or installation of anchors, tie downs, and over-the-roof ties or other reliable methods of securing mobile homes when over-the-roof ties are not suitable due to factors such as unreasonable cost, design of the mobile home, or potential damage to the mobile home. Such devices as required under this section so that such devices, when properly installed, shall cause the mobile home to resist wind overturning and sliding. In promulgating such rules and regulations the department may make such discriminations regarding mobile home tie down requirements as are reasonable when factors such as age, location, and practicality of tying down a mobile home are considered.

Section 2. This act shall take effect upon becoming law and shall operate retroactively to March 31, 1974.

Amendment 2—On page 1 in title, line 3—12, strike all and insert the following: A bill to be entitled An act relating to mobile homes; amending §320.8325, Florida Statutes, which provides for tie down requirements; exempting mobile homes permanently attached to a permanent structure; deleting requirement of external over-the-roof ties for mobile homes not having built in over-the-roof ties; granting department authority to develop alternative methods to secure mobile homes when over-the-roof ties are not suitable; granting department authority to make reasonable discriminations in tie down rules and regulations for factors of age, locality, and practicality of tying down a mobile home; providing an effective date.

totally and permanently disabled veterans and other persons; providing for reporting of revenue losses; requiring legislative appropriations for reimbursement of revenue losses; providing an effective date.

Amendments attached.

—and requests the concurrence of the Senate.

Allen Morris, Clerk

Amendment 1—On page 1, line 29, strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

Section 1. Subsection (3) and (4) of section 196.031, Florida Statutes, 1973, are amended to read:

196.031 Exemption of homestead.—

(3)(a) For every person who is entitled to the exemption provided in subsection (1), who has been a permanent resident of this state for the five consecutive years prior to claiming an exemption under this subsection, and who is sixty-five years of age or older, the exemption shall be increased to ten thousand dollars for taxes levied by district school boards for current school operating purposes. Application for this additional exemption shall be made by the applicant in person or by mail. Submission of an affidavit that the applicant claiming the additional exemption under this subsection has been a permanent resident of this state for the five years immediately preceding the date of application shall be prima facie proof of such residence.

(b) For every person who is entitled to the exemption provided in subsection (1) who has been a resident of this state for the five (5) consecutive years prior to claiming the exemption under this subsection, and who qualifies for the exemption granted pursuant to section 196.202, Florida Statutes as a totally and permanently disabled person, the exemption shall be increased by four thousand five hundred dollars, so that the sum of the combined exemptions is five thousand dollars ($5,000).

(c) No homestead shall be exempted under both paragraphs (a) and (b) of this subsection.

(4)(a) The tax assessors of the various counties shall each year compile a list of taxable property and its value removed from the assessment tax rolls of each local governmental unit as a result of this increased exemption as well as a statement of the loss of tax revenue to each such governmental unit, the school board. These reports shall be furnished to the department of revenue by the various tax assessors not later than October 1, 1972 and October 1 of each year thereafter. The department of revenue shall in turn compile a list of lost revenue by county and provide the house appropriations committee, the senate ways and means committee, and the commissioner of education with such report not later than October 15, 1972 and October 15 of each year thereafter.

(b) There is hereby created the local government additional homestead exemption trust fund. The fund shall be administered by the department of revenue. The department shall after approval of all tax rolls determine the revenue that would have been raised by each qualified local governmental unit except school districts based upon ninety-six percent (96%) of the value of property exempted under section 196.031(3), Florida Statutes, and the operating millage levied by each such governmental unit. A qualified local government is one which makes application to the department of revenue to participate in the fund prior to December of each year or which participated in the fund in the prior year and which levied a millage in the current year. The department shall deliver the replacement funds to each qualified governmental unit by no later than January 1 of each year for the revenue lost in the current fiscal year's ad valorem tax levy. If the funds appropriated to the trust fund are insufficient to fully compensate all qualified local governmental units, all distributions from the fund shall be reduced pro rata. If a governmental unit's loss cannot be determined by January 1, then the department shall not make any distribution to that governmental unit until such time as sufficient facts become available to the department.

(b) Beginning with the 1973 regular session and each regular session thereafter, the legislature shall provide sufficient appropriations for the minimum foundation program for kindergarten through grade twelve to enable each school district to receive additional state funds in an amount which shall be equal to the net loss of school funds as reflected in the report for that year.

Section 2. Section 196.011, Florida Statutes, is amended by adding a new subsection 196.011(3), Florida Statutes, to read:

(3) For the 1974 assessment roll the additional homestead exemption granted to persons over sixty-five who have qualified for the additional exemption granted in section 196.031(3), Florida Statutes, for school operating purposes shall be automatically, without further application, extended to include the additional exemption for all governmental units.

Section 3. It is the legislative intent that this act shall be construed as a whole, that its provisions are interdependent, and if any provision or applications of the act is held to be invalid that the entire act shall be held to be invalid.

Section 4. This act shall take effect upon becoming a law or upon final passage by the legislature of the State of Florida the following amendment to the State Constitution, whichever shall last occur.

A joint resolution proposing an amendment to Section 6 of Article VII of the State Constitution relating to homestead exemption.

Be It Resolved by the Legislature of the State of Florida:

The real estate may be held by legal or equitable title, by the entireties, jointly, in common, as a condominium, or indirectly by stock ownership or membership representing the owner's or member's proprietary interest in a corporation owning a fee or a leasehold initially in excess of ninety-eight years.

(b) Not more than one exemption shall be allowed any individual or family unit or with respect to any residential unit. No exemption shall exceed the value of the real estate assessable to the owner or, in case of ownership through stock or membership in a corporation, the value of the proportion which his interest in the corporation bears to the assessed value of the property.

(c) By general law and subject to conditions specified therein, the exemption may be increased up to an amount not exceeding ten thousand dollars of the assessed value of the real estate if the owner has attained age sixty-five or is totally and permanently disabled.

(c) No person who becomes a permanent resident of this state on or after January 1, 1975, shall be eligible for homestead exemption.

(d) In the event that any part of this amendment is found to be unconstitutional by a court of last resort, then the entire amendment shall be deemed unconstitutional and Article VII Section 6 as adopted prior to this amendment shall be deemed to be in full force and effect as though this amendment had never been adopted.

The exemption granted for persons over sixty-five shall apply beginning with the 1974 assessment roll, and the exemption granted disabled persons shall apply beginning with the 1975 assessment roll.

Section 5. Section 196.197 is amended to read as follows:

Section 6. This act shall take effect immediately upon becoming a law provided however, the exemption granted for persons over sixty-five shall apply beginning with the 1974 assessment roll, and the exemption granted disabled persons shall apply beginning with the 1975 assessment roll.
